

Music Ministry Report

In 2021, we began the year by continuing to provide music for virtual services. Members of the choir recorded themselves singing hymns, Travis Lohmann provided organ tracks, and Heather Rampton edited and synced individual recordings together as part of the recorded service each week.

When we were able to return for in-person services, Travis Lohmann initially provided music from the organ without singing from the choir. Over time, we added congregational singing. Prior to our return to virtual services in January 2022, the choir had resumed singing for Sunday services, and was able to sing for Christmas Mass.

We look forward to 2022 with the hope that we will resume congregational and choir music as soon as it is deemed safe and appropriate.

In 2021, we began the year by continuing to provide music for virtual services. Members of the choir recorded themselves singing hymns, Travis Lohmann provided organ tracks, and Heather Rampton edited and synced individual recordings together as part of the recorded service each week.

When we were able to return for in-person services, Travis Lohmann initially provided music from the organ without singing from the choir. Over time, we added congregational singing. Prior to our return to virtual services in January 2022, the choir had resumed singing for Sunday services, and was able to sing for Christmas Mass.

We look forward to 2022 with the hope that we will resume congregational and choir music as soon as it is deemed safe and appropriate.

Heather Rampton